Dorothy Dalton in Thrilling Film of Paris underworld Famous
Thomas H. Ince Star Has Powerful Dual Role in "L'Apache"

The Paris underworld in all its romantic glamour and sordidness lives before the audience's eyes in "L'Apache," the new Thomas H. Ince picture starring Dorothy Dalton, which was produced for Paramount-Aircraft release and will be shown at the MAMMOTH THEATRE. Miss Dalton, is seen in a dual role. As an apache dancing girl, she performs at the command of her ruthless criminal husband, and finally flees from his cruelty and finds refuge in the bohemian quarter. By a freak of fortune she encounters her double, a rich American girl who has fallen under the power of a profligate millionaire. This part also is played by Miss Dalton and gives her an opportunity to wear some exquisite gowns. After many thrilling adventures and a startling climax, the drama is worked out to a happy ending.

Robert Elliott, Macy Harlan, Austin Webber, and Louis Darcley are included in the supporting cast of "L'Apache," which was directed by Joseph DeGrasse.

MEETING OF THE ELM GROVE ASSOCIATION EXECUTIVE BOARD.

The Elmore Executive Board of Elm Grove Association, met Wednesday, Feb. 18, 1920 at Davis Lake, with Liberty Baptist church. Rev. F. B. Davis, pastor under most favorable circumstances. From the very beginning, an unusual interest was manifested. The Moderator, Rev. G. F. Hood, but matchless parliamentarian was at his best. Never before in the history of association have men so willingly paid monies to the cause. The purse strings of the women and children too were loosed and they support of the work. This Board could not have succeeded if there had not been such noble hearted and generous men and women as Mr. and Mrs. W. Brewer, Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard and family; Deacon Macky, and brother and son and their families; Mr. and Mrs. Jones; and sister Sweet and family; Bro. Pap Jones and family; Mr. Bennett and daughters; Deacon Brewer, Rev. Felder, Miss A. Jackson, Miss Boston; Mr. Williams and daughter, Rev. Jones, and all the other families and friends who in any way contributed to its success. Here's our hand, God bless you all. The introductory sermon Wednesday night by Rev. M. Willis lead the pace. It was a glorious meeting. Thursday, Rev. Willis preached. Thursday night, the venerable chieftain, Rev. B. Meredith, preached a good sermon. Friday morning preaching for the women was done by Rev. J. J. Davis, in a splendid manner. At night, Rev. W. M. McPherson placed us with a
